

Table of Contents

5	Introduction
8	Partnership and solidarity – A postcolonial approach to theory and praxis
23	CHAPTER I: NGO Structures
24	«They talk about peace, but not about racism» - Interview with John Kantengwa on labor rights, white privileges and unequal power distribution in a North-South Peace Organisation
28	The North has structural advantages over the South – The perspectives of KATE's partner organisations from the Global South on KATE. By Kerstin Wippel
33	«Engines Made in Germany» – Pitfalls of solidarity work and the trap of feeling omnipotent. By Andreas Rosen
38	CHAPTER II: School Partnerships
39	«Aid structures express power relations» – Interview with the former teacher Gilberte Raymonde Driesen to colonial behavior in school partnerships
44	«Old wine in new bottles?!» – Interview with Claudia Schilling from the ENSA-school program on partnership
49	CHAPTER III: Volunteer Services
50	Challenging the own structures – Cooperation and horizontal structures in South-North volunteer services. By Margarita Rodríguez Ornelas
55	Changing dynamics – The staff of the Indian NGO Nirmalya-Trust write their experiences explicitly as practice report, not as historic Analysis, about colonialism. By the Nirmalya Trust Team
58	CHAPTER IV: Solidarity Work
59	«Who's in solidarity with whom?» – Interview with Mbolo Yufanyi Movuh of The VOICE on refugee struggles, African independence and solidarity as self-liberation
67	For freedom of movement for everyone and everywhere! – A reflection of the first transnational project of the group Dresden Postkolonial. By the Dresden Postkolonial Team
71	Unlearning privilege, unlocking usefulness – Forth-World solidarity work and Aboriginal struggles for land and self-determination. By Clare Land
75	CHAPTER V: Checklist for Reflection and Practical Transformation
96	Publishing Information